

9 Writing Assignment Due Thursday, April 9

(Note this is due on the night of the exam.)

Prompt. Think about a topic you feel you have not learned very well this semester. Spend a couple hours thinking about the topic, trying a few problems, and trying to understand why you are having difficulties with the topic. Try to understand the topic better.

Write about the topic. No need to be authoritative. This is like a (math) journal entry. What topic are you writing about? What's an example of a problem from an exam or from class that illustrates the topic? Now that you've spent a couple hours thinking about it, do you understand it better? Could you explain it to a friend? Could you tutor somebody about the topic?

Format. See online. Only PDF uploads are accepted on Canvas for writing assignments.
